

DONATE YOUR CELL PHONE IT MAY JUST SAVE A LIFE!

Meet Mary Jane and Dave McDonald

Last year, while driving with her husband on Route 50 in Maryland, Mary Jane McDonald had a heart attack.

"My first thought was to get to the nearest hospital as soon as I could," said Dave McDonald, Mary Jane's husband. Instead, he pulled over to the side of the road and called 911 on a cell phone that was given to him for free by Secure the Call.

Three minutes later, the first emergency workers arrived at their car. With help from a cardiologist on the phone at the hospital, they were able to stabilize Mary Jane and take her to the hospital where she recovered and was released several weeks later.

"Having a cell phone to call 911 saved my life," said Mary Jane. "The doctors told me that if my husband had taken the extra 15 minutes to drive to the hospital, I wouldn't have made it."

Secure the Call, along with all of our employees and volunteers, is happy and proud that Mary Jane McDonald is alive today to tell her story. If you have an old cell phone, please send it to us.

If you need a phone, give us a call or visit www.securethecall.org and we'll tell you how to get one.

DONATE YOUR CELL PHONE FOR A SAFER COMMUNITY

Welcome to Secure the Call, a program designed to collect old cell phones and after a little work, redistribute them to those who need a cell phone for the purpose of calling 911 in the event of an emergency.

Any phone that can be turned on can be used to call 911. It's always a free call and will connect you to the nearest emergency operator. If you have a cell phone, you're always close to getting help. But if you don't have a phone, you could be in trouble.

That's where Secure the Call comes in. Our goal is to make available a cell phone to anyone who needs one. And best of all, the program is free. The phones are yours for the asking.

If you already have a phone, you can help. There are over 150 million old cell phones sitting in drawers and closets in America. We need your old phone to make this program a success.

Call us at (301) 891-2900 or visit www.securethecall.org to find out how to donate your old phone. Together, we can help thousands of local citizens feel safe and secure.

There are over 150 million used cell phones sitting in drawers and closets in the USA. These phones could help tens of thousands of our citizens feel safe and secure by converting them into 911 emergency-use cell phones. Donate your old cell phone and we'll put it to a great use.
